Albany's Policy On Racial Crisis Hit by Kennedy

Council's Refusal To Negotiate With Negroes Is Cited

ALBANY, Ga. (AP)—Racial issues remained deadlocked today despite President John F. Kennedy's comment that the situation in this southwest Georgia city is "wholly unsatisfactory."

As the White House stepped openly into the matter, a federal court hearing continues on whether mass demonstrations by Negroes should be banned.

And Negroes kept up their campaign of going to jail in protest of segregation.

Mayor Asa D. Kelley Jr. rejected the President's position that city officials should sit down and talk with Negro leaders. And Kelley got support from Gov. Ernest Vandiver.

"We will never talk to outside agitators about local problems," the mayor said.

Sole spokesman for the seven-member City Commission, Kelley blamed agitators for creating turmoil in Albany, where Negroes comprise about 40 per cent of the 58,000 population.

Asked if that referred to Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. of Atlanta, currently in jail as a result of integrationist activities, the mayor replied:

"I mean exactly that." Kennedy promised in Washington at his news conference to "do everything in our power to protect the constitutional rights of all the people."

"Let me say that I find it wholly inexplicable why the city of Albany will not sit down with the citizens of Albany, who may be Negroes, and attempt to secure them, in a peaceful way, their rights. The United States government is involved in sitting down at Geneva with the Soviet Union. I can't understand why the government of Albany, City Council of Albany, cannot do the same for American citizens."

The mayor didn't rule out the possibility of talking with Albany Negroes but he stated as a condition to negotiations the departure of King and his corps of integration strategists.

King agreed with the President on negotiations. The integration leader, after a week behind bars, said Kelley was offering "an excuse and another evasive scheme to avoid negotiating."

The impasse between city officials and integration leaders dates to last November, shortly before the mass demonstrations erupted. More than 1,200 arrests have been made since mid-December.

Each side in the controversy has accused the other of breaking faith. Negro leaders in recent months have talked once with city fathers at a regular commission meeting. But there has been no real agreement on the disposition of city court cases pending.

East Liverpool Hearing Ends

Judge Places Social Club On Probation

LISBON — Columbiana Common Pleas Court Judge Joel H. Sharp late Wednesday afternoon placed the Veterans Social Club in East End, East Liverpool, on probation, beginning at midnight today, but they may stay open if certain conditions are corrected or if they put up a $5,000 bond for stay of execution pending an appeal.

In placing the club on probation, Judge Sharp said their four liquor citations over a period of years, for selling drinks to non-members, was not sufficient in the court's mind to justify closing the club.

The Negro club has 75 members and 420 social members from the local and tri-state area.

Judge Sharp, in his opinion, said:

"There is an overwhelming amount of evidence that the club failed to keep the peace, comfort

JFK Asks Action by Congress

Stiffening of Drug Control Promised

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy promises stiffer government controls to avert drug tragedies and urges every woman in the country to guard against taking thalidomide.

He asks all women to look through their medicine cabinets and turn in any thalidomide they find to health authorities. The drug is blamed for thousands of malformed births in Europe.

Kennedy issued the warning, along with an appeal for Congress to establish new safeguards against potentially harmful drugs, at his news conference Wednesday.

From the same platform, Kennedy castigated city officials in Albany, Ga., for not sitting down with Negroes and trying to rescue their constitutional rights. The President was asked about racial strife in the Georgia community, where protests have led to a multitude of arrests and rising tension.

"The United States government is involved in sitting down at Geneva with the Soviet Union," he said. "I can't understand why the government of Albany, City Council of Albany, cannot do the same for American citizens."

As for the talks at Geneva, Kennedy said U.S. negotiator Arthur H. "Dean" will present new information gathered by the United States on a simpler, more economical and more effective system for detecting underground nuclear explosions and enforcing a test ban treaty.

Kennedy praised the Food and Drug Administration, especially Dr. Frances Kelsey, for alertness in preventing commercial distribution of the drug in this country. But he said "we ought to be tougher" in regulating distribution of drugs to doctors for experimental use and suggested this could be done without further legislation.

Stronger legislation than a bill approved by the Senate Judiciary committee, however, is essential for the government to yank new drugs off the market "where there is an immediate hazard to public health," Kennedy said.

On other subjects, the President had this to say:

July Weather Didn't Ease County Drouth

Despite 3.37 inches of rainfall, July was the fifth month in a row with below normal precipitation, District Weather Observer reported today in his monthly summary.

Last month's total, which was less than the 4.81 of July a year ago and also the average of 4.30 inches, was accompanied by temperatures which also were slightly below normal. The average temperature last month was 68.6 degrees — compared to 69.1 for July of 1961 and the norm of 70.5 which covers a 69-year period in Columbiana County.

The driest July on record, however, was in 1914 when only 1.42 inches of rainfall descended.

Copeland pointed out that "we are short 5.28 inches of rain and until we have above average rainfall for three or four months, the drought situation will get worse. If cornfields don't get rain in the next two weeks, district crops will be damaged severely."

The observer said many farmers have their livestock on full feed rations, as they would in the winter. "This situation is serious because the farmers had only a 30 per cent hay crop to start with," he added.

"The only relief will be above average rainfall until winter and then an early spring in '63," the observer commented.

The high temperature last month was 90 degrees recorded on July 7 and 8. The low was 43 degrees July 10 and 28. Sunshine averaged 60 per cent, which is 15 per cent below normal, he said.

Will Reduce Inspection Demand

U.S. Offers Test Ban Concessions

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy sends his disarmament negotiator back to Geneva today with an offer of new concessions for a nuclear test ban treaty with the Soviet Union.

Final decisions on U.S. strategy for a determined new bid to check the nuclear arms race were made at a White House conference presided over by the President late Wednesday.

Shortly before going into that meeting with his top military and diplomatic advisers, Kennedy told a news conference that the critical issue between the United States and the Soviet Union is the right of international inspection.

He appealed to the government of Premier Khrushchev to drop its total opposition to such inspection.

The White House meeting was the latest of a series which began last week, climaxing the study of new scientific information on the detection and identification of underground nuclear explosions.

Kennedy told his news conference this information shows that it should be possible to reduce the amount of inspection—and thus the operations of foreign investigators inside the Soviet Union—and at the same time have an acceptable degree of security against violations of the treaty ban. The Soviet Union maintains that inspections on its soil would amount to spying.

The heart of the problem is that a total prohibition on nuclear weapons tests could be policed

Aluminum Pact Signed

Agreement Ends One-Day Walkout

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—The nation's two largest aluminum producers have agreed to similar two year contracts with the AFL-CIO Aluminum Workers International Union, providing better job security through longer vacations and pension improvements. The pact ended a one-day strike of 16,000 workers at 22 plants.

Reynolds Aluminum Co., and union negotiators reached agreement a few minutes after midnight today, six and a half hours after the Aluminum Company of America agreed to a new contract.

Employees started returning to work at midnight in Alcoa plants and less than two hours later at Reynolds plants. Alcoa signed its contract Wednesday night, Reynolds will do so today.

The two contracts are much alike. Both provide for enlarged vacations, improved pensions and better work rules. Neither contract includes a wage increase.

Spokesmen for both firms said full production at some plants won't be restored for as long as six weeks, depending on the type of plant. All plants were shut down and furnaces cooled in preparation for the strike.

Union president Eddie R. Stahl said the union sought more job security to counteract plant automation. He said automation had cost the union 5,000 members in the last three years.

City Parking Meters Show Revenue Gain

Receipts from parking meters in July netted the city $3,596.70, Auditor Helen Coyne reported today.

This was $610 more than was taken in from the meters in June. However, there were five weekly collections in July and only four the previous month. The average weekly income for July was $719.34, compared to $746.72 for June.

The $3,596.70 collected last month was almost double the $1,821.02 taken from parking meters in July, 1961. The Pershing-Penn municipal lot wasn't in operation yet at that time.

Following is a breakdown of parking meter receipts for last month, with June figures in parentheses:

Pershing - Penn lot, $240.59 ($206.05); E. State St. lots, $250.22 ($193.77); S. Ellsworth lot, $220.62 ($188.44); on-street meters, $2,885.27 ($2,398.62).

Lisbon Man Is Burned By 'Hot' Wire

Louis Fernandez, 34, of RD 1, Lisbon, an employee of the Hoosier Engineering Company of New Philadelphia, electric line contractor, is in "fairly good" condition in Alliance City Hospital with burns on right leg and left arm received in an accident at 12:30 p.m. Wednesday atop a pole while working on an Ohio Power extension line on Route 43, two miles south of alvern.

He was using a drill preparatory to inserting a cross-arm on the pole when the shield over the 12,000-volt line slipped and the drill came in contact with the "hot" line.

James Donithan, 30, of 829 Auburn Place, Canton, went to Fernandez' assistance, loosening his safety belt, but then lost his grip and fell 10 feet to the ground, injuring his arm. He was treated and released at Alliance City Hospital.

The other three men in the crew and passersby got Fernandez down from the pole and placed him on the top of the service truck. A passing telephone repairman used his car radio phone to call for an ambulance which took him to the hospital.

GETS 199 YEARS — Convicted killer Paul Crump, 32, read the Bible in Cook County Jail, Chicago, while waiting to hear Gov. Otto Kerner's decision on commutation of his death sentence to 199 years without hope of parole.

Clemency Given To Murderer

Illinois Governor Ends 7-Year Battle

CHICAGO (AP)—Legal controversy swirled today around Paul Crump, a convicted slayer whose electrocution sentence was commuted on the strength of an unprecedented plea.

Gov. Otto Kerner decided Wednesday that Crump, less than 35 hours away from death in the electric chair for a 1953 murder, should be spared.

The governor, in his clemency message in Springfield, said Crump, 32, "must be accepted as rehabilitated."

Crump, a Negro in his nine year fight to escape the electric chair had won 14 stays of execution. The U.S. Supreme Court had three times refused to hear his appeal.

Clemency was the governor's decision alone to make. However, controversy grew over Kerner's statement that Crump should serve "199 years without parole." Statehouse legal experts said the governor has no authority over granting paroles, a matter solely up to the Illinois Parole and Pardon Board.

Under the new Illinois criminal code adopted Jan. 1, the experts pointed out, Crump could apply for parole after serving 20 years in prison.

Crump received the news of his escape from the electric chair from Warden Jack Johnson in the jail where the condemned man had spent the last nine years.

"All the credit," Crump said in a voice shaky with emotion, "should go to God for my life. I thank God, Governor Kerner and all the men who had faith and worked so hard to bring this case to the attention of the governor and the public."

Crump's plea, pressed by his advocates at a hearing of the

$97,974 Total In First-Half Receipts Shown

Amount Is $10,000 Over Year Ago, Auditor Reports

City income tax revenue for the first half of this year was up more than $10,000 over the amount collected during the first six months of 1961, Auditor Helen Coyne reported today.

Collections for the quarter ending July 31 amounted to $45,104.65. Added to the $52,870.25 taken in during the previous three-month period, the total for the first two quarters this year amounted to $97,974.90.

Last year's first-half returns totaled $87,087.54.

For bookkeeping purposes, the auditor has used Jan. 31 as the cutoff date between the 1961 and 1962 taxes. That is, all money collected prior to Feb. 1, 1962, was credited to the 1961 tax. Money taken in between Jan. 31, 1962, and Jan. 31, 1963, will be credited to the 1962 tax.

Under this arrangement, the 1961 tax produced $170,187, including $39,330.41 taken in during January of this year.

'62 Total May Be $196,000
If the second-half collection this year equals the first-half returns, the 1962 city income tax will produce almost $196,000. In 1961, the first year of the one-half of one per cent tax, $87,087.54 came in during the first two quarters, then revenue dropped off slightly in the second half to $83,099.46.

When the tax was initially put into operation, tax experts predicted that it would produce about $150,000 the first year.

When City Council renewed the tax for 1962, they signed an agreement with Mayor Dean B. Cramer that any receipts over $150,000 this year will be set aside to help pay the city's estimated share of $65,000 for the proposed overpass at the W. State St. grade crossing.

The $52,70.25 collected during the first quarter (Feb. 1 to April 31) this year was substantially more than was collected in any previous three-month period since the city tax went into effect the first of last year.

The drop in revenue to $45,104.65 for the May-July quarter was anticipated since the record total taken in during the February-April period actually included an undetermined amount which came in late on the 1961 tax.

Also, since the books on the second quarter were closed July 31, tax returns mailed that day didn't arrive at the office until Wednesday (Aug. 1). Therefore, these payments will be reported with the third quarter collection. The auditor indicated this sum would be substantial, since withholdings by one of the city's major industrial plants were included in Wednesday's mail.

Withholdings High

Of the $45,104.65 taken in during the last quarter, by far the largest amount, $34,846.33, came

Has Tendency To Be Fickle

Rifleman's 'Dead Eye' Wanders on the Ladies

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Chuck Connors will deny it furiously, but the sad truth is that Lucas McCain is fickle.

For the past year, television's stalwart, right-thinking, fast-shooting "Rifleman" has been seriously romancing a girl named Millie. Lucas will soon put her out of sight and mind. And, at the same time, a new girl will enter his life.

The ABC program soon will start its fifth season. Earlier this week star Connors threw a party to introduce the pretty red-head, Patricia Blair, who in the third new program of the fall will catch our hero's unexpectedly roving eye.

Originally, "The Rifleman" added dark-haired Joan Taylor to the cast of regulars, partly to inject some romance into the adventure-filled life of widower McCain and his young son and partly to satisfy feminine fans of the program who wrote worriedly about the lack of gentle, motherly influences on the young boy.

But a popular television series runs into certain serious problems as it grows older. There is crying need for change and variety, but there are limitations. Obviously they couldn't change the characters played by tall, good-humored Chuck or by Johnny Crawford, playing his son. One answer was a new romantic interest. So Pat, a Dallas girl who moved on to acting after a modeling career in New York, got her chance.

In order to tie up all the loose ends and to stem a flood of fan letters demanding to know what happened to Millie, the program will explain she suddenly was "called back East." Then Pat, playing a lady called Lou, will come to town and take over the local hotel.

Troy Donahue gets a new name and character when he moves from "Surfside Six" to "Hawaiian Eye" this season. Rumor hath it that "Hawaiian Eye" would have been among ABC's discards had not the producers strengthened the show with the addition of Troy, a current teen-age rage.

Ohio Pays Record Amount for Each Public School Pupil

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio is contributing a record $114 a year towards the education of each public school pupil according to a new legislative study report.

Figures compiled by the Legislative Service Commission, fact-finding arm of the General Assembly, showed that the contribution 10 years ago was $78 a pupil.

State aid to public schools during the past decade increased from $106 million to $229 million, the report disclosed.

House Speaker Roger Cloud, R-Logan, said the figures do not include appropriations for operating state universities.

He said appropriations for the coming school year hit a high of $244.5 million and will boost the percentage of general funds used for school purposes.

The report said school appropriations during the period studied rose to 51 per cent of general fund revenues for the bookkeeping year ended June 30, 1959.

"This percentage fell 10 points to 41 per cent of total tax revenues in the year ending June 30, 1960, because of the impact of a considerable amount of new general fund taxes enacted during the term of the 103rd Legislature (1959)," Cloud said.

"The percentage of all tax revenues appropriated to public schools is again rising, reaching 46 per cent of all general fund tax revenues in the school and fiscal year ending last June 30," he added.

The study said general fund tax revenues, available for appropriation, increased during the decade from $289 million to $503 million for the last fiscal year. But the $229 million granted schools in the last fiscal year exceeded the $221 million available from sales tax revenues during that period, the report said. Other figures showed that state contributions to retirement systems for teachers and employees mounted from $18 million to nearly $58 million during the decade. State payments were in addition to contributions by teachers and employees themselves.

Columbiana Kiwanis Picnic Set Monday

By MRS. DONALD DURR and MRS. FRANK HENRY
COLUMBIANA — The Kiwanis Club will hold its annual picnic for members and families next Monday evening at Firestone Park.

The coverdinner is scheduled for 6:30.

The Kiwanians at this week's meeting at Heck's restaurant enjoyed a talk by John Golden, who told of his 7,065-mile trip through the West, including stops at the Seattle World's Fair, Disneyland and Mexico.

Over 200 attended the farewell reception held Monday evening for Rev. and Mrs. A. A. Anderson and family in Luther Hall of the Lutheran Church.

Art Hickman was chairman of the program. Colored slides pertaining to the church and the 14 years Rev. Anderson was here were enjoyed.

Remarks were made by the Church Council President Henry Todd; by Ryan Snyder, who spoke for the Young Adult Class and presented the Andersons a gift; also by Maksis Grins, who presented Rev. Anderson a gift from the several Latvian families in the community in appreciation of the help given them by Rev. Anderson.

A purse was presented to the family from the New Waterford and Columbiana congregations.

Rev. Anderson will preach his final sermon as pastor of the local parish on Sunday. The family will enjoy a vacation in Maryland before going to their new home in West Alexandria.

Refreshments were served cafeteria-style from a beautiful table setting.

MISSIONARY Ralph Goldhardt and family arrived from New Guinea Monday morning. They have four children and brought two native girls with them. The family will locate on N. Elm St. after a short visit with relatives in Cincinnati, being here for a year's furlough. Mrs. Goldhardt is the former Julia Yarian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Yarian of S. Main St.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ferrall, Columbiana - Leetonia Road, visited Mrs. Margaret Holms and her mother in Canfield Sunday.

Mrs. Verda Walker honored her mother's birthday Monday with a one o'clock luncheon. Those present were Mrs. Emma McEldowny and daughter, Mrs. Carrie Manley and Mrs. Dwayne McEldowny and daughter Bonnie and an aunt, all of Sebring. Mrs. Walker's mother is Mrs. Mary Bingham of S. Main St.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ellis are enjoying a week's vacation. Several days will be spent in Washington, D. C., at the home of their daughter, Mrs. John Sutherin. Mrs. Sutherin will return home with them because her husband, who is in the service, expects to be sent overseas soon.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Graves of Poland were recent guests at the Harry Ferrall home.

Walter Messersmith has been on a tour to the west and World's Fair in Seattle, Wash.

THE COLUMBIANA MOTHERS

Club will sponsor a dance for high school and college students Saturday evening at Dixon School from 8:30 to 11:30. Joe Wojtecki will spin the records.

Mrs. Gale Gloss and Mrs. Bruce Feicht are in charge of arrangements. Proceeds are to be used for the after-prom party traditionally given in the spring. Mr. and Mrs. Gloss and Mr. and Mrs. Feicht will be chaperones.

THE CHAMBER of Commerce will circulate a petition among the local merchants this week asking the merchants to remain open Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, at least on a trial basis. The petition is the first move in an effort by the Chamber to attract more business to the community.

The Columbiana Volunteer Fire Department was called to a brush fire on the County Line Road Tuesday afternoon. An old barn was being torn down and burned, and the fire got out of control. Little damage was done.

The Ohio Historical Society administers the sites of 2 War of 1812 forts for public appreciation: Fort Meigs, Perrysburg and Fort Amanda, Auglaize County.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Thursday, Aug. 2, the 214th day of 1962. There are 151 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this day in 1826, Daniel Webster delivered the eulogy to John Adams and Thomas Jefferson, the second and third U.S. presidents, respectively, both of whom died on July 4, 1826. It was in this speech that the famed orator employed the now famous phrase, "Sink or swim, live or die."

On this date: In 1776, the Declaration of Independence was ordered enshrined in parchment.

In 1817, the first steamboat on the Mississippi River arrived at St. Louis.

In 1876, famed scout and U.S. Marshal Wild Bill Hickok was murdered in Deadwood, Dakota Territory.

In 1940, France's puppet Petain government condemned Free French leader Gen. Charles de Gaulle to death during World War II.

In 1956, death came to the last surviving Civil War soldier in the Union Army, 109-year-old Albert Woolson.

Today's birthday: Actress Myrna Loy is 47.

Thought for today: Wear your learning like your watch, in a private pocket; and do not pull it out and strike it merely to show that you have one—Earl of Cheshire.

Woman, 43, Held In Ex-Husband's Slaying

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 43-year-old woman was held without charge today in the slaying of her former husband.

Police said Mrs. Marye Champanella surrendered Wednesday afternoon and told them she shot her ex-husband once in the back of the head Tuesday night. She said the shooting was the result of arguments the pair had had since their divorce last April.

Police found the body of Frank Champanella, 48, on the bathroom floor of his home. Since the divorce, Champanella had occupied the downstairs of the home and his ex-wife lived on the second floor.

An All-American President

If everybody agrees that fading confidence is slowing down the growth of enterprise in the United States and that only a change of government attitude can strengthen confidence, what are we waiting for?

Why doesn't the Kennedy administration do what we have been told the governments of other countries are doing—throw all its support behind the expansion of enterprise? Why should it scare off producers of wealth?

The key to this economic mystery is a belief that has had a powerful effect on two-party politics since the mid-'30s. This belief may or may not be founded in fact. But even if it springs from fantasy and folklore, it's still powerful.

THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY holds it to be an article of faith that it must believe whatever labor leaders of the country who profess to be Democrats say it should believe. These people believe, in turn, that the only way they can stay at the top of their exclusive occupational group is to pretend to be hostile to employers, managers, financiers and professed disciples of free enterprise.

Whether they all believe this personally is questionable. Most of them are hard-headed realists whose eyes are focused sharply on the source of their institutional and personal income, which certainly is not socialism or any other form of anti-capitalism.

But as long as they preach antagonism to enterprise in their public statements, spokesmen for the political party they dominate will sing the same tune. The Democratic party will inspire no confidence in the business community.

THE QUESTION is now and has been for more than 25 years whether union leaders who bait business, even to the point of advocating state capitalism, represent their constituents, or whether these men are personally dominated by the ideologies of powerful associates at the expense of American Unionism.

Democratic politicians share with Republicans a throbbing curiosity about the real power of union bosses. Can the bosses deliver the votes they say they can? Can they really break the backs of office seekers who disagree with them? Or are they bluffing?

Have Republicans been taking it on the chin since 1932, except for the Eisenhower sweep and temporary flurries of strength in Congress, because the labor leaders actually were so powerful or because their party was weak?

And did Republicans weaken it unnecessarily by me-too campaigns in which they tried to match Democrats in wooing the left, or should they have gone even further than the Democrats and promised the moon and the stars too?

THE ONLY WAY to stimulate a stepped-up expansion of wealth-producing enterprise is to gain the confidence of conservatives who dominate management and finance, who is going to do this if the political party in power makes hostility to enterprise a cardinal point in its appeal for voters?

These now are nagging questions, especially in the White House, occupied by a scion of wealth who has fitted himself into a New Deal mold to keep the "friendship" of labor leaders demanding hostility to enterprise as the price of their political support.

President Kennedy wants to be a success in politics. He wants a second term. He wants to be a strong president. He will have to decide whether he can be these things and organized labor's official business-baiter.

He may have to borrow an item of wisdom from his predecessor and try to be the president of all kinds of Americans, including those who voted for Richard M. Nixon. Among them, according to the closeness of the hairbreadth outcome, must have been a great many unionists.

The Blue Eagle Loved It

Running strongly through General Electric Co.'s statement on settlement of its litigation with the federal government over price-fixing was this significant theme:

The company hoped it might be permitted to get back to its main task, which is "to bring outstanding values to the nation's electricity users."

This is how General Electric built its business. This is the base of its reputation. It and the other companies that have given the United States pre-eminence in the use of electricity to multiply the impact of human effort did not foresee the legal complications that would accompany their efforts to run successful businesses.

Price fixing? What is it?

By one of those switches of perspective

Name-Dropping

That Texas court of inquiry which has been gingerly touching the Billy Sol Estes scandal put a tentative finger on a sensitive spot before it closed the store last week.

It brought out testimony indicating that the Estes confidence game relied heavily on name-dropping. Among the names he dropped were some of the biggest ones in Texas politics. Then there were those pictures on his office wall of some of the biggest names in the Democratic party.

The victims of his confidence game, including some who were loving every minute of it because they were just as crooked in their thoughts as Estes himself, were impressed. They figured that a man with so much influence in high places must be a sure bet to pick up the marbles. Ultimately, the question is going to be whether the owners of the names Billy Sol dropped knew what he was doing and what, if anything, they did to discourage him.

Transformation

Funny thing. When we came home from our vacation our incredible Rottwille had a new hair-do. A transformation.

She had lost the shaggy, roly-poly look her puppy hair gave her and was as sleek as a slicked-down Spanish dancer's coiffure. But only in places.

There was a ruffle of long hair around her neck and a bustle-effect on her rear elevation. It was only around the middle that she looked sleek.

She had lost no weight in shedding her hair, but she looked only half as heavy as she looked when we went away. By the time wire brushes, combs and clippers had disposed of the surplus hair that hadn't been pulled out or worn off by natural causes, she was slimmed down to toy-breed proportions.

At the age of 13 months, she has emerged in her true appearance. She is not going to look like a square-jawed collier, which she looked like most of the time while she was growing up. Nor is she going to look as formidable as a Rottwiler — chunky black dogs with ginger underpinning.

What she looks like, taking everything into consideration, is ludicrous. She has a formidable mouth, a lithe, muscular body and feet like a lioness.

But under her nose, which is ginger-colored, she has a black mustache. Her tail is a source of ribald laughter, because she hasn't any, but where it isn't a tuft of hair is growing on the nub.

When her tongue hangs out, which is most of the time, she looks like an overgrown pup. Although she can spring like a deer, she simultaneously can lumber like an elephant and do $5 worth of damage passing a flower-bed.

Despite her bark, which is blood-chilling on the occasions she uses it, she is an ever-loving beast whose only menace consists of the probability he would get between the legs of a marauder and trip him.

This is the reconstituted Trudy, terror of the Twillery, unshakable companion of Irish setter Tara and bane of aged spaniel Freda, because poor Freda has no teeth left to assert seniority.

Trudy's toenails are blunt from indefatigable digging.

The Twillery kittens are perpetually damp from being carried in her mouth.

The sheep are tired of being chased into the barn, where she thinks they belong.

She jumps at birds flying 50 feet in the air. She chases everything that moves — rabbits, chipmunks, squirrels, automobiles, and airplanes.

She flattens tin cans from the dump and bounces them on the terrace in the dark of night.

She plays with firewood, rips branches off trees and is a canine hoyden.

But she feels so good no one can feel bad in her presence.

She atones for all misdeeds with copious slurping of an absurdly pink tongue.

That rub of a tail vibrates with joy. When she looks you in the eye you know your moment of truth has come; there's nothing you can hide.

What a blessed day it was when Trudy left the Humane Society shelter to come to live at Rosy Fingered Dawn — to lead a dog's life.

That Annual Splitting Headache

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

I drove north into the mountains towards Yugoslavia. I heard the tales of Tito. I learned how he shut his border so whole divisions of the 60,000-man underground Communist guerrilla army could not hit our Greek allies and then hide in Yugoslavia as the Chinese Communist armies did in North Korea when they took sanctuary behind the Yalu River. But that was 14 years ago.

We have been grateful. General Van Fleet and our Greek friends defeated the Communists. We have shown our gratitude with over $2 billion worth of aid to Belgrade.

Now Marshal Tito is 70 and all over Europe there is more and more evidence that his second echelon leadership, which really is running his government, is running it more and more towards the Sino-Soviet bloc.

When I pointed this out in the past the Yugoslavs protested officially. They want no criticism. They say they want no strings. That's stuff for the diplomats. But not for newsmen.

WHY SHOULD Belgrade go uncriticized in Congress or in dispatches such as these, when, for example, they supply Communist China with strategic materials on credit while taking aid from us.

On June 28, a Communist Chinese delegation in Belgrade signed a $6 million trade agreement with the Yugoslav government. When the Belgrade government officially announced this they reported an agreement with the "Chinese Peoples Republic."

That is Mao Tse-tung's Peiping government. That is the enemy. If we're not fighting the Communist Chinese now in South Viet Nam, then we're sending those helicopters out to shadowbox with smoke columns. Obviously Marshal Tito is aiding our enemy. With what?

The Belgrade - Peiping agreement calls for Yugoslavia to send aluminum and copper products, seamless tubes, cellulose, chemicals, polyvinyl chloride, tools, cables, tractors, as well as consumer goods. If most of these goods are not potential war material Tito is Czar Nicholas in disguise.

IN RETURN for these valuable, and much needed, supplies, Yugoslavia will receive soy beans, soya oil, talc, asbestos, sheep, casings, goat skin, folk handicraft products, silk and cotton goods. Without these, I presume, life in Belgrade would grow mighty drab.

Tito and his people must really want those sheep casings and silk. Otherwise why give all that vital material to the Communist Chinese? There are also those goat skins. Can you imagine what life would be like in Yugoslavia without goat skin? Or could it be that Marshal Tito wants to make life easier for General of the Red Armies, Mao Tse-tung, master of Marxist guerrilla warfare?

All this has been going on since March 25, 1960. A new agreement is signed each year. This means Tito has been sending Peiping millions of dollars worth of vital equipment while we have been lending him millions.

As for Tito and Khrushchev, the record shows that when U.S.S.R. Foreign Minister Gromyko left Belgrade on April 21, the Yugoslav Foreign Ministry issued an official communique saying that its government and Moscow would draw closer together on "political, cultural, economic and other fields."

THIS POLITICAL embrace of Mr. Gromyko — known in all informed circles as an almost obsessed hater of the U.S. — came on the very same day we "sold" Yugoslavia on the easiest credit terms more than $45 million worth of our surplus foods.

And on April 15, a special Moscow labor delegation arrived in Belgrade. It was the special guest of the Belgrade Trade Union Council. It stayed for 19 days. Without an expert guide you couldn't tell them apart ideologically.

Needless to say, capitalism America did not come off well in the conferences of the two groups. The Yugoslav unions—which also have protested my previous discommunist labor federations as ities — now are sending envoys to communist labor federations as far as Ulan Bator, capital of Outer Mongolia — another "state" in which we're not likely to be voted the most popular of the class of '62.

Observers also report that the Yugoslavs are attempting to turn the new unions of Africa against us and our labor leaders—especially in Algeria.

If we owe Tito gratitude, we have paid our debt. Now, it seems to me, he owes us something. Not much for our billions of dollars without strings. Not much, but at least let him not fraternize with our enemies, who also happen to be the enemies of humanity and the master builders of massive walled-in concentration camps.

Confused Senate

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Chaos Reflects Democratic Party Breakdown

On the surface, the Senate is in a state of utter confusion. Actually, it is reflecting the breakdown of the Democratic party and a seeming inability to follow the guidance or advice of either President Kennedy or the duly chosen leaders of the upper house. Retically, the row is about a bill to let private companies develop a communications system by using satellites like Telstar. But that issue isn't broad enough to cause all the hullabaloo it has in the last few days.

President Kennedy is for the measure, and it would be passed by an overwhelming majority if it could be brought to a vote. There is as good a reason why telephone service by satellites should be left in the hands of private companies, subject as usual to government regulation of rates, as there is for telephone communication by private companies to be maintained, as it is, under the sea, or by direct radio.

The bill to deal with the satellite system of telephone communication, however, has afforded an excuse for an outbreak by so-called "liberals."

Among them there is no real solidarity, or even any excessive amount of political virtue.

Some are sore because President Kennedy isn't channeling enough money to their states in an election year. Some are upset about legislative measures for which they wait for preference that they are not getting.

On the whole, it seems strange to see a filibuster conducted by those who like to feel that the term "liberal" applies to them, because they hitherto have condemned this as the unrighteous tactic of Southerners intent on blocking "civil rights" legislation. What it proves, of course, is that everything depends on whose ox is being gored.

PERHAPS the most oft-repeated comment heard about the plight of the Senate is that it misses Lyndon Johnson's leadership. As vice President, he is not able to do what he did as majority leader.

The story one hears is that Mr. Johnson used to plead and cajole and "deal and deal." He had a resourceful array of maneuvers and, besides, was intimately in touch with the late Speaker Sam Rayburn so that when it was desirable to push a legislative measure to the front the tall Texan could accomplish that feat with a few telephone calls across to the capital.

Sen. Mike Mansfield, the new majority leader, is a man of a different type. He doesn't like some of the machinations of so-called practical politics. He likes to feel that legislators should be above tactics that appeal to their materialistic senses.

A times he seems frustrated and disappointed and like a man who wishes he were not called upon to make deals.

But, as the weeks go on, grievances pile up. Coincidentally, White House influence tends to fluctuate. Also, whenever a President's curve of popularity in the public-opinion polls takes a decided drop, Congress seems to exhibit a more independent or at least a less subservient attitude toward White House emissaries who practice the art of cajolery on Capitol Hill.

SEN. PAUL DOUGLAS of Illinois, Democrat, regarded as one of the powerful members of the "liberal" bloc, made a significant comment in this connection the other day as he was being interviewed by Republican Sen. Kenneth Keating of New York. Mr. Douglas declared:

"Now the truth of the matter is that we have not two parties in Congress, but four parties. We have a liberal Democratic party, which is overwhelmingly predominant in the North and West, and a conservative Democratic party, which is overwhelmingly predominant in the South. And we have a conservative Republican party, which is overwhelmingly predominant in most sections of the country with a small but very fine liberal wing largely confined to the northeastern states. This is the basic difficulty. We have a cleavage — a very great cleavage — and most of our southern Democrats vote with the conservative Republicans. It is this bipartisan alliance — which I have called the 'unholy alliance' — which has dominated Congress for 24 years."

The figure of speech didn't stand up too well this week. It was Northern "liberals" and Southern conservatives who joined together in an alliance to oppose the use of the cloture rule that would terminate the filibuster.

Does it prove the so-called "liberals" and so-called "conservatives" are really no different under the skin?

Or does it prove that each case stands alone and basic principles and party discipline have become old-fashioned in an era of irresponsible government?

Summer Camp

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—When you are bringing up children, your life has many turning points.

Such as when you take a young daughter to her first summer camp.

I fought back hard when the idea was raised to send Tracy Ann, who is 9, away to camp for a full month.

"Why, I didn't sleep away from home until I was 12," I objected. "And then when I did go to a Boy Scout camp, it was for only two weeks."

"Yes, and you probably rode there in a horse and buggy," said my wife, Francis. "But they do things differently now. Most camps want the children for two months."

"But Tracy will die of homesickness. She'll be among complete strangers."

"No, she won't. Three friends from her school are already at the camp."

Well, Tracy herself pitched in and said there was no one left in the neighborhood to play with under 70, and please, please, please, couldn't she go to summer camp? So, against my own judgment, I caved in, and said yes.

On the morning I was to take Tracy to camp, she woke and yelled, "This is the day!"

She kissed Frances goodbye, kissed our cat, Lady Dottie, on her pink nose, and off we went.

On the train passengers turned and smiled at Tracy in her snappy camp uniform. She was very affectionate, and cuddled close to me as she dozed after reading me a comic book—the last she would see for a month, as they don't allow comic books in camp.

Awaking, she asked thoughtfully, "Will you miss me, Daddy?" "Of course I'll miss you," I replied. "And Mommy will miss you, too, and so will Lady Dottie. The whole apartment will be flooded with our tears."

Tracy nodded her head cheerfully at this blissful picture of family sorrow she'd leave behind her.

"I'll miss you, too," she said gravely.

But when we reached the camp itself, she quickly dropped my hand she'd clung to—and left a lonesome feeling in my fingers. She had caught sight of one of her friends, and the two romped happily away across the green acres, scaring butterflies as they ran.

I had lunch at the camp with Tracy and her three friends and felt as out of place as a camel at a picnic of squirrels. Just before leaving I walked down to the lake with them. Tracy brushed away the hand I held out to help her down the steep path.

"Give me a kiss," I said. She squiggled up her freckled face impatiently, eager to be off. The next moment Tracy dashed away, laughing with her gal pals, and she never glanced back or turned to wave farewell.

I stood there, feeling like a middle-aged orphan.

I knew that what I had brought to that summer camp I would never quite get back altogether in all the seasons I have yet to know.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I have a rival who hangs around my home day and night, monopolizes my husband's time and attention, takes over our dinner conversation, and even invades the bedroom. Her name is "Baseball" and I'm sick of her.

My husband is seldom at home for dinner during the week, but whenever he is, we have to watch a game. I wouldn't dare to open up my mouth during a play. When we go to bed he always has a game on the radio. He falls asleep around the seventh inning. The radio bothers me so I sleep on a lumpy cot downstairs. He calls this "unfriendly."

Ann, I like baseball and have learned a great deal about it but I think there's a time and place for it. He knows how I feel but it doesn't seem to matter. Shall I just continue to suffer with it as I have for the last 14 years?—F.P.B. (Full of Baseball).

Dear F.O.B.: Rejoice in the knowledge that your rival is an inanimate, seasonal thing. Also on the plus side—can't you see that it's boyish infatuation (and not true love) or he wouldn't fall asleep in the seventh inning?

Pro 'Maple Leaf'

Dear Ann: It did my heart good to read that letter from "Maple Leaf" who believes it is perfectly all right for a woman who is separated from her husband (though not divorced) to go out with men. Usually, I agree with YOU, but this time I was on the other side.

"Maple Leaf's" colorful description of Canada's divorce laws was not an exaggeration. Until this archaic legislation is changed there will be no place in society for the woman whose first marriage was a mistake.

There is no alternative for women who are legally chained but living alone. They are sunk unless they accept dates. Married women never include us because they are fearful their husbands may find us attractive. Single girls are trying to snag men for themselves, so they aren't going to include us either.

My advice to "Maple Leaf" is to use discretion. Her reputation will not be sullied. True friends will understand there is no other way. The rest of the loudmouths don't count. If you are fair, Ann Landers, you will print this letter—NEVER-NEVER LAND.

Dear Never-Neve: Thank you for your letter. It reflects the thinking of hundreds of other Canadians who wrote in support of "Maple Leaf."

My position that married women should not be dating still stands. However, let's hope this furor may help to achieve sounder legislation for Canadians.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Matter of Fact

Moonshine definitely is not a thing of the past. Although the manufacture of illicit liquor had decreased 17.7 per cent since 1960, last year federal agents seized 6,825 illegal stills.

DEAR HELOISE: When going over the grout in your tile bathroom, using white shoe polish, I cut down the time by using the white polish in a plastic bottle with a tip applicator.

Just wash the tile and let it dry and apply the shoe polish in all of the cracks. Allow to dry thoroughly and wipe off excess.

the cream of tartar, out of that pan into the next pan to be cleaned, and repeat until all of my pans are shiny. The cream of tartar will leave a white powdery film on the bottom and sides of pans. A scouring pad will remove this and you will find that under the film is a shine that beats all.

MRS. J. J. MURPHY

DEAR HELOISE: Does anybody have any idea how to remove mildew stains from rubber mats on sink tops?

MRS. L. V. R

Take all of your rubber mats and put them in your bathtub or kitchen sink. Fill your bathtub with about two inches of warm water. Add about one half cup of household bleach. Stir this well. Place all of your mildewed rubber mats in this concoction. Leave for a few hours.

Drain the water from the bathtub and using a little brush gently brush the mats. I believe you will find all of the mildew has disappeared.

Many people also put one of the new scouring powders which contain bleach on these rubber mats and let them sit for a little while. Then rinse and wash as usual.

200 At County Rally In N. Waterford

GOP Women Challenged to Fight Threat of Socialism

Over 200 Columbiana County Republican women workers attended a political education seminar at the fish & Game Club in New Waterford Wednesday. Principal speaker for the meeting was Mrs. Florence G. Morris of Toledo, vice chairman of the Republican State Central and Executive Committee, who spoke on "You, The Woman In Your Block."

Mrs. Morris told the group, "We have in Washington an administration dedicated to the complete socialization of our government and the destruction of the free enterprise system. We have a man in the office of President who has shown the contempt he holds for honest, hard-working businessmen: he has tried to usurp the Constitution and grab more power than the founding fathers intended him to have. We have a man heading a socialist administration who is intent on changing America from a nation of free men to a nation of serfs."

"If he is to be stopped in his avowed purpose," she went on, "you women and others like you all over America will have to go out and elect a Republican Congress in November. We no longer can depend on the Democratic party to defend American principals. It is a dead party. In its place is a group of Socialists, left-wingers and Americans for Democratic Action who use the proud name of Democrat as a front for their destructive purposes. It is these groups we oppose. They are our enemy. They must be defeated before they destroy our country."

In closing her address, Mrs. Morris informed the women, "It's up to you, the woman in your block to get out every day from now until election day, knock on doors, ring bells and tell the people the Republican story. Once you get the people thinking, you will be doing your bit to protect your precious rights and heritages for yourself and your children."

Miss Gladys DeBolt of East Liverpool, Columbiana County chairwoman, was in charge of the meeting. Mrs. Letha Astry of Salem, 18th District Committee-woman, assisted.

GOP WOMEN MEET — Pictured at yesterday's Republican women's education seminar, held at New Waterford, were (l. to r.) Mrs. Letha Astry of Salem, 18th District committeewoman; Mrs. Florence G. Morris of Toledo, vice-chairman of the GOP state central and executive committee, and Miss Gladys DeBolt of East Liverpool, Columbiana County chairwoman.

Train Crash Blamed On Maintenance Crew

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—An official of the Pennsylvania Railroad blames the derailment of a baseball special which killed 19 persons on the failure of maintenance crews to install enough rail anchors while rehabilitating tracks near Steelton, Pa.

James P. Newell, vice president of operations, said Wednesday the lack of anchors permitted the rails to get out of alignment. A rail anchor is a steel device which clamps on the base of the rail.

Newell said "appropriate disciplinary action" will be taken.

More than 100 were injured when the last three of the nine cars jumped the tracks and tumbled into the Susquehanna River in Steelton late Saturday. The train was carrying baseball fans to a game in Philadelphia between the Phillies and Pittsburgh.

Warren Woman Held On Forgery

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — Bond has been set at $5,000 for blonde, shapely and suntanned Beverly Jean Lambert, a 21-year-old Warren Ohio, native charged on 23 counts of forgery and with conspiracy in passing worthless checks.

Appearing in short shorts in City Court Wednesday, Miss Lambert waived a preliminary hearing. She was ordered held for Superior Court trial.

Miss Lambert, who was arrested in Daytona Beach, Fla., is among six persons arrested in connection with a ring that manufactured and passed bad checks in at least eight states. She also faces charges in Knoxville and Nashville, Tenn.

Charlotte detective Fred Hucks said Dennis Mason, recently convicted in Oklahoma City, was the ringleader. He said Mason used a printing press and checkwriter to produce phony checks which the others passed.

3 Hurt, Two Arrested In Car Mishaps

Three persons were hurt, none seriously, in two one-car accidents on area highways early this morning. Both drivers were arrested by the State Highway Patrol.

Harold Powell, Jr., 20, and James Guy, 18, both of East Palestine, were injured at 12:25 a.m. when the car in which they were riding skidded off Rt. 170 east of Columbiana and struck a tree about two miles south of the Mahoning County line.

The driver of the car, Albert C. Smith, 18, of RD 1, East Palestine, was not hurt. Powell suffered a laceration on the back of his head and a sprained back. Guy received a sprained back. Neither of the youths was hospitalized.

The Patrol said Smith was driving north on Rt. 170 when the vehicle ran off the right side of the road. He applied his brakes and the car skidded sideways into a tree and metal sign. The right side of the car was damaged extensively. Smith was cited for reckless operation.

Lawrence N. Barborak, 25, of RD 1, East Liverpool, was arrested for driving while intoxicated after his car failed to negotiate a curve on County Rd. 424 near Glenmoor, rolled over and smashed into a gas meter.

Barborak suffered abrasions of the neck and right hand but did not require treatment. The natural gas meter was torn off and the line broken. The car also received considerable damage.

JFK Defends Condition of U.S. Economy

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy isn't happy with the state of the economy. But he is willing to match statistics with the Republicans on this issue in the congressional campaign.

Kennedy contended at Wednesday's news conference his administration's record on production, incomes, business profits — and even stock prices — is better than levels attained under former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

And he discounted a national poll which indicated 72 per cent of those questioned opposed a tax cut that would put the government further in debt. Republicans felt this poll sustained their position.

Kennedy said the results might have been different if those polled had been asked if they favored a tax cut as a means of combatting a recession which would further increase the debt. He reminded that in 1958, under Eisenhower, there was no tax reduction when the deficit hit a peacetime record.

He called encouraging the report that unemployment fell by 450,000 in July to its lowest rate in two years.

The President thus summed up the Democratic position on what Republicans have begun to point to as possibly the outstanding issue in their efforts to win control of the House and increase their Senate holdings.

In response to a question, Kennedy specifically took on Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee and spokesman for party conservatives. Goldwater has predicted any further slide in the economy will damage the Democrats.

Kennedy said he isn't satisfied with present conditions because "there is still a gap between what we are doing and what we could do, based on our manpower and on our plant capacity."

East Palestine Bid On Turbine Accepted

EAST PALESTINE—The General Electric Corp. has submitted the apparent low bid for a 7,500-kilowatt turbine which the city expects to purchase for the municipal light plant.

GE's bid of $603,770 is well under the $825,000 estimated cost. Three other bids for the contract were received by the board of controls before the noon deadline Wednesday. They were submitted by the Allis - Chalmers Corp., $618,500; the Worthington Corp., $618,850; and the Westinghouse Corp., $659,500.

The board of controls is not expected to award a contract for at least a month.

Installation of the turbine will be the final phase of a $1,250,000 improvement project at the light plant.

PROBE $150 THEFT
LISBON—Authorities are checking out a license number in the theft of $150 in dimes from a pinball machine Tuesday at 8:45 a.m. from the White Spot restaurant, just east of Minerva on Route 30. Three men were playing the machine and forced open the money compartment, putting the dimes in a coat pocket and left in a 1959 auto, Chief Deputy James Miller said.

Deaths, Funerals

Johnson Funeral

Funeral services for Donald F. Johnson, 36, who died Tuesday in Alliance City Hospital, will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Damascus Friends Church.

Officiating will be Rev. Irving Chase, pastor of the Lockwood Church, assisted by Dr. Byron Osborne, president emeritus of Malone College. Burial will be in Damascus Cemetery.

The body will lie in state at Berea Methodist Church 7 to 9 p.m. Friday. A prayer service will be held at 9.

Mr. Johnson, an aeronautical engineer and son-in-law of Rev. Edward Escolme, pastor of the Damascus Friends Church, was stricken ill suddenly on a visit here.

Considerable smoke damage was caused to the home of John Syppko, 274 W. Wilson St., shortly after 10 Wednesday night by a fire of undetermined origin which broke out in the basement.

Fire damage was confined to wiring in the basement but smoke spread throughout the house, Chief E. M. Bush reported. Firemen were summoned at 10:08 p.m.

At 4:33 p.m. Wednesday, firemen were called to the Dennis Miller residence, 436 Perry St., where grease on a stove burner caught fire. Damage was light. The fire was out by the time firemen arrived.

Chief Bush warns that gasoline and inflammable cleaning fluids should not be stored inside a home. He said such liquids have been the cause of two residence fires in the city this week.

Damascus Ruritan Club Meets; Golf Match Is Enjoyed

Eldon Maris was in charge of the golf tournament when the Damascus Ruritan Club met Wednesday at the Root 62 Clubhouse, with 30 members present.

Guests were Earl Wang of North Georgetown, John Snyder of Beloit and Donald Fogg of Washington, D.C., a former member.

Ellis Steer accepted the position of vice-president for the remainder of the year, replacing Earl Mather, who recently became president.

Ray Dean and L. L. Root were welcomed as new members. For a "work night" tonight, members will dig a foundation for the new cabin at the Community Center.

Plans were made for a recognition meeting with other Damascus groups honoring William Bauman who has been fire chief for 15 years.

Nick Cosma told of his effort to have the speed limit on Route 534 reduced and Herbert Tetlow announced that some of the road signs erected by the club are in bad condition.

It was announced that all future meetings will begin at 6:30, instead of 7:30 p.m.

The next meeting will be "Farmers' Night" held at the Damascus Methodist Church Sept. 5.

Franklin Twp. Fire Department Convenes

SUMMITVILLE — Trustees of the Franklin Township Volunteer Fire Department met at the fire station Wednesday evening and okayed the use of their equipment in a planned mutual aid agreement with fire departments of other communities in the Columbiana County Firemen's Association.

Ralph Cox reported on the recent County Fireman's Association meeting at Homeworth, and bills totaling $50.96 were approved for payment.

Due to Clerk Wade Clark being scheduled for eye surgery Monday in Alliance City Hospital the date of the next meeting has not been set.

Negro Mayor Hears Charge Of Prejudice

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Don Crawford, a Negro, served as acting mayor at the Dayton City Commission meeting Wednesday night — the same night a Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) delegation attended to protest alleged discrimination in the city.

Crawford, a member of the five-man commission, was filling in for the first time in the absence of vacationing Mayor Frank Somers. Crawford is Dayton's first Negro commissioner.

About 40 members of CORE marched to the City Hall steps, sang a spiritual, said a prayer and entered the meeting room — to challenge Dayton's nomination as an "All-American City" in national competition.

W. S. McIntosh, leading the demonstrators, charged that the city has too much discrimination to qualify as "All-American." McIntosh charged that Dayton's 70,000 Negroes are taxed without representation and claimed they are prejudicially treated in hiring for police department and other city jobs.

In Cincinnati Wednesday a group of Negro clergymen and laymen staged prayer demonstrations, saying they were to protest treatment of southern Negroes, especially in Albany, Ga.

Ten ministers sang hymns and gave short talks on the steps of the County Courthouse.

A spokesman for the group said about 400 Negroes had gathered in Bethlehem Baptist Church and about 75 others at Zion Benevolent Baptist Church at the same time as the Courthouse gathering.

Levy Renewals Set At East Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Separate one-mill renewal levies for street maintenance and city park operation will be placed on the November ballots as a result of action taken at a special meeting of City Council Wednesday night.

Each of the levies would be for two years. Both levies have been in operation here for more than 20 years.

Council, which had been in recess for the summer, was called into special session last night by Mayor Robert Harding to consider the two resolutions.

Plan Surplus Foods Distribution Aug. 13

Robert Bycroft, county welfare director, said distribution of surplus foods will begin Aug. 13 for city relief, county welfare, aid for aged, and soldiers and sailors.

The schedule follows: East Liverpool fire station, Aug. 13; Salem City Hall, Aug. 14; Wellsville Jaycee building, Aug. 15; Lisbon warehouse, Aug. 16; and East Palestine fire station, Aug. 17.

Hours at all locations will be 9 a.m. until 12 noon.

Bliss aircraft arresting equipment operates on the "rotary nylon tape" principle. This system is used in conjunction with an aircraft equipped with an arresting hook which is let down from the rear of the plane at the pilot's discretion. The hook engages a wire-rope pendant stretched across the runway and attached to nylon tapes. The nylon tapes are wound on reels at the sides of the runway which pay out the tape as the aircraft engages it. The reels are coupled to aircraft brakes which absorb the energy of the impact and gradually slow the plane to a stop.

In 1958, the California Air National Guard installed Bliss arresting equipment at its Van Nuys air base, and in 1961, the Air Force ordered 110 units for U.S. air base runways, marking the first extensive use of the system.

Bliss expeditionary arresting gear, a smaller type of gear used for repeated aircraft arrestments, is also in use by the Marine

Income tax operation—$9,611.38.

Distribution Shown
On a percentage basis, 55.8 per cent went to the general fund, 37.2 per cent was placed in the capital improvement fund and 7 per cent went for operating the tax office.

Last year, due to the added expense of setting up the tax, 18 per cent of the total collection went for operation. That left 49.2 per cent for the general fund and 32.8 per cent for the capital improvements fund.

After operating expenses are taken out, the remaining receipts are broken down 60 per cent for the general fund and 40 per cent for capital improvements.

parole and pardon board Monday was unprecedented because he no longer denied killing Theodore Zukowski, 44, during a $20,000 robbery. Five other guards also were beaten in the robbery of a Libby, McNeil & Libby Co. plant on the South Side.

Instead, Crump asked his life be spared because he had changed in prison from a vicious killer to a cooperative, peaceable prisoner.

Bliss

Bliss aircraft arresting equipment operates on the "rotary nylon tape" principle. This system is used in conjunction with an aircraft equipped with an arresting hook which is let down from the rear of the plane at the pilot's discretion. The hook engages a wire-rope pendant stretched across the runway and attached to nylon tapes. The nylon tapes are wound on reels at the sides of the runway which pay out the tape as the aircraft engages it. The reels are coupled to aircraft brakes which absorb the energy of the impact and gradually slow the plane to a stop.

In 1958, the California Air National Guard installed Bliss arresting equipment at its Van Nuys air base, and in 1961, the Air Force ordered 110 units for U.S. air base runways, marking the first extensive use of the system.

Bliss expeditionary arresting gear, a smaller type of gear used for repeated aircraft arrestments, is also in use by the Marine Corps. This gear, transportable by air, is easily and rapidly installed and is capable of repeatedly arresting aircraft at 30-second intervals.

Bliss has also developed an application of the rotary nylon tape principle for a combination launching and arresting device called a Catapult. This system is of particular use in accommodating military jet aircraft to operations from the short runways available at bases in forward combat areas.

Ambassador Arthur Dean, the top U.S. negotiator at the 17-nation Geneva Disarmament Conference, returned to Washington last weekend for the final round of policy making conferences.

At the conference Kennedy is understood to have ruled that Dean should give the Soviet Union and the other Geneva powers full information on scientific findings about the improvements in detection technique. These, Kennedy made clear at his news conference, will permit reductions in the amount of inspection necessary to police a test ban.

The President and his advisers also decided Wednesday that the United States would be prepared — if the Soviet Union will accept inspection — to negotiate on a radically new line respecting the establishment of permanent control posts within the Soviet Union.

Officials said that if sufficient safeguards could be developed the United States could be expected to drop its demand that such posts be staffed in large part by foreigners including representatives of the Western allies.

other than transportation and then throwing contraceptives at the club and in neighbor's yards.

"After visiting the club and its neighborhood in person, the club should and could close the club, but the court also knew that the colored people should be allowed to have a place where they could relax and enjoy themselves, if they do not disturb anyone."

"If the following conditions are corrected the club may open and if the rules are obeyed, it may remain open, but if violated the club will be closed immediately."

"Men's toilet increased three times its present size; a policeman appointed by East Liverpool from their department which will be paid by the club and he must be on duty from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. each night the club is open. His duty will be to keep the patrons quiet when they leave and enter the club, not to allow mixed sexes occupy cars parked in the neighborhood, not to allow any drinking outside the club, alley not to be used as toilet or cars parked illegally."

If these rules are kept and East Liverpool will appoint a policeman to see they are kept then the club can remain open, but if any of these rules are violated the club will be closed immediately."

Prosecutor G. William Brokaw, in summing up his case Wednesday, said this was not a racial trial, although all his witnesses have been white, but that it was a case where the neighborhood was disturbed by the club's patrons and was a place where he thought a lot of trouble began.

Defense Atty. Hugo Alexander of Steubenville agreed with the prosecutor that racial prejudice had nothing to do with this request to close the club but that he thought that one man, Robert Trbovich, was the cause of all the complaints, a man who keeps a diary of persons entering and leaving the club, the times, how they act.

Air Polution: Giant Problem of the West

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The West—particularly the hot, dry deserts of Arizona and the cool mountains of Colorado—once was mecca for thousands suffering respiratory ailments.

They left the crowded cities of the East and Midwest and sought the sparsely populated areas with untainted air.

Communities nurtured by these health seekers began to grow at a phenomenal rate. Now these havens of health are combating the same force that drove the sick from other parts of the nation.

Take two examples—Denver, surrounded by the snow-covered Rockies, and Phoenix, an oasis in the American desert.

Denver has a growing air pollution problem.

Dr. William F. Spence of the University of Colorado medical school says pulmonary emphysema, a lung disease, is on the increase. Chronic bronchitis has shot upward in the last few years. Dr. Cyrus W. Anderson, past president of the Colorado Medical Society, says dirty air is aggravating sinus disorders and having a dangerous effect on the lungs.

And the worst is to come. A 1957 survey indicated that within eight years auto exhaust pollution would triple, industrial pollution would increase by a third, and household pollution would be up one fifth.

To battle this condition, Denver has restricted to certain hours burning of trash in home incinerators. The ordinance also prohibits industrial smoke of greater than specified density. But nothing has been done about auto exhaust fumes.

Phoenix is covered with an almost perpetual haze. From the downtown section, famed landmarks such as Camelback Mountain are lost behind the smoky mantle.

The larger counties—primarily Maricopa (Phoenix) and Pima (Tucson)—demanded action. But many smaller counties feared legislative action might be aimed at their copper smelters.

After a one-year delay, Arizona's legislature passed a measure permitting each county to combat air pollution on its own.

A U.S. Public Health Service study reported that Phoenix had the fourth dirtiest air in the nation, although this was disputed by several Arizona sanitary engineers.

The burning of trash has been curtailed in the Phoenix area. More and more streets are being paved to curb dust.

And state health department officials say, "we are only a few years away from nationwide use of suppression devices on all cars to combat exhaust fumes."

The Doctor Says

By Dr. H. T. HYMAN

A Remarkable Clinical Center

Many correspondents have asked for more details about what I consider the foremost medical establishment in the world, the Clinical Center of the National Institutes of Health.

It is situated on a 316-acre campus at Bethesda, Md., a half-hour ride from downtown Washington.

It consists of a 14-story building that houses 516 beds, 1,100 laboratories and 7 different institutes, each devoted to the study of a special branch of medicine: allergy and infectious diseases, arthritis and metabolic diseases, cancer, dentistry, heart diseases, mental health, diseases of the nervous system and blindness.

EACH YEAR, study projects are undertaken. Patients are admitted when their illnesses relate to the study project under consideration. The list of these projects is sent to those physicians who write to request this information.

This year, the institutes are studying angina pectoris, leukemia, cancers of head and neck and other tumors, rheumatoid arthritis, the "butterfly disease" (lupus erythematosus), cystic fibrosis, certain virus infections, epilepsy, schizophrenia and certain varieties of meningitis.

To gain admission, an application must be made in writing or by phone by the admitting physician. Only the character of the disease determines acceptance. No restrictions are placed on residence, race, creed, color or citizenship.

EXCEPT FOR transportation costs (for which help may be given), no other fees are charged. However, the candidate must agree to participate in the research whose progress, as well as other clinical information, will be made available to the referring physician to whom the patient will be returned after discharge.

Once admitted to the institute, the most expert and kindly care is given all patients, who have unexcelled facilities at their command for reading, recreation, occupational therapy, tutoring (especially for school children) and attendance at the church of their denomination.

Next time you or your children visit the Capital, save time to become familiar with one of the many splendid ways your government is investing your tax dollars. It will surely interest you. It may restore your health and even save the precious life of a loved one.

Sandyville Youth Dies In Corn Crib

DOVER, Ohio (AP)—Wesley R. Riehl, 16, of near Sandyville was buried alive today in corn in a 25-foot deep metal crib and apparently suffocated before rescuers reached him.

The accident happened on a neighboring farm owned by Roy Rice.

Sheriff's deputies said the teenager was in the crib cleaning mold from the corn when he fell into a pocket and the other corn poured on top of him. His body was found in the center of the crib after a three-hour search by farm hands.

The coroner is to rule on the cause of death. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Riehl.

Holdsworth and B. D. Blair, ex-State University, have been received by the local farm extension office, according to Floyd Lower, county extension agent in agriculture.

SILK BEETLES on field corn—as of July 20 adults of corn rootworms were observed feeding on corn silks. Past records indicate that adult feeding usually cause little or no economic damage. The beetles are out earlier than usual, however, and there is a possibility of silks being cut before pollination. The presence of a few beetles, or some cut silks is not cause for alarm. If a check shows large numbers of silk beetles cutting fresh silks, then control may be justified. Use 1½ pounds actual DDT per acre.

POTATO LEAFHOPPERS—Alfalfa field, state-wide are showing yellowing due to a heavy build-up of potato leafhoppers. The condition will get worse in third growth. Spray with methoxychlor emulsion concentrate when the crop is 4-6 inches high.

GRASSHOPPERS—We can expect more grasshopper damage to corn than we have had in recent years. Young grasshoppers are uncommonly numerous in the fence-rows. They will go from cut meadows to corn. Protect the crop before grasshoppers move in by spraying fence rows with Aldrin, or dieldrin.

CORN EARWORM—Judging by reports of earworm damage to early corn, second brood earworm will be especially heavy from mid-August on. Earworms are not resistant to either DDT or Sevin. Control lies in starting early when first silks show, and then keeping the silks covered until they wilt.

MITES—Several mite species cause bronzed and mottled leaves of fruit trees, shade trees and ornamentals. Kelthans, or malathion in at least two sprays, 10 days apart, are safe for the home-owner use. One year's attack by mites will not kill the tree.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The poultry industry is the first major U.S. farm enterprise to feel the inch of new restrictionist policies of the European Common Market.

The Agriculture Department reports that the price of ready-to-cook broilers — which have been finding an expanding market in western Europe — is expected to rise from 34.8 cents a pound to 42.8 cents in West Germany Aug. 1. This will reflect an increase of 8 cents a pound on the present tariff of 15.9 cents.

The European Common Market area is setting up agricultural policies which will raise tariffs on imports to encourage greater production and trade within the market area.

Members of the common market are Belgium, the Netherlands, France, West Germany, Luxembourg and Italy.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Production of sweet potatoes is becoming a highly specialized farm enterprise.

The Agriculture Department reports that since 1939, production of this crop had dropped from about 1,200,000 to 300,000 farms. During that period, the acreage declined about three-fourths and production about one-half.

It said there has been a sharp decline in demand, associated with increasing urbanization, higher incomes and a general shift away from starchy, high calorie foods.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Imports of grains for seed use have dipped considerably this year, apparently reflecting cutbacks in plantings under surplus control farm programs.

The Agriculture Department reported today that imports this year were 3,444,000 bushels, compared with 5,282,000 last year and 4,702,000 bushels the year before that.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Winter and spring losses cut the number of colonies of honey bees 1 per cent from a year ago.

The Agriculture Department reports the number of colonies on July 1 at 5,480,000, compared with 5,511,000 a year earlier. The honey bee is vitally important as a crop pollinator as well as a producer of honey.

Try Orange-Honey Sauce With Lamb

Modern-day Eves, being both romantic and practical, suit their cooking to the season's best offerings, and serve them with style and imagination. In this recipe leg of lamb is glazed with an orange-honey sauce and served with fresh orange slices and grapefruit sections.

The lamb is basted with part of the sauce frequently as it roasts, and just before serving the fruit is heated with the remaining sauce and served with the meat.

Sweet potatoes or whole boiled potatoes would be good with the lamb, and asparagus is a fresh choice for a green vegetable.

5 to 6 pound leg of lamb, Salt, Pepper, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon ginger, 2 cups Florida orange juice, 2 tablespoons honey, 1 Florida grapefruit, sectioned, 1 Florida orange, peeled and sliced.

Arrange lamb on rack in shallow pan. Blend cornstarch cinnamon and ginger in saucepan.

Slowly stir orange juice and honey into cornstarch mixture. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened and clear. Pour 1 cup of thickened sauce over lamb.

Add grapefruit sections and orange juice mixture. Roast lamb in slow oven (325 Deg. F) 2½ to 3 hours or until meat thermometer registers 175 Deg. to 182 Deg., depending on desired doneness. Baste lamb with orange juice mixture in roasting pan frequently during roasting period.

Just before serving, heat grapefruit mixture to serving temperature, stirring gently. Serve with lamb.

Salmon Loaf Steams On The Stove

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Summer suppers in Canada, when I was a little girl, sometimes relied on what my mother called "the larder" for one dish. In the tiny town we went to for vacations, fresh supplies were often limited. Canned foods are still used in summer, but nowadays probably as much for speed as convenience.

We children never minded when the pantry shelf was raided to produce a steamed salmon loaf with caper sauce.

Apart from the loaf's honest flavor, we were enchanted by the way it was steamed in a tall baking-powder can—or tin, as we called it in typical Canadian fashion. Out the loaf came in a perfect roll, ready to be sliced in the neatest possible rounds. To us children there was something miraculous about cooking in a can.

Those large baking-powder cans seem to be a thing of the past. So this summer when we were moved to steam a salmon loaf, we used a melon mold. This shape looks attractive and divides well.

The caper sauce that accompanied the loaf also fascinated us those years ago. My mother said that the capers were nasturtium buds, and my sisters and I thought eating flowers was the height of elegance.

Tiny new potatoes, golden with melted butter and green with minced fresh dill, were the inevitable accompaniment of the salmon loaf.

With the salmon and the potatoes came the salad; a big bowl of cucumbers, tomatoes and sweet onions, all sliced paper-thin and steeped in a marinade of white vinegar, cold water, salt and sugar. This salad was never drained before being brought to the table, as it is these days; instead ice cubes were added to vegetables and marinade. Then we helped ourselves from a silver "skimmer"—a large shallow spoon with a perforated bowl to drain off the marinade.

After the salmon loaf might come freshly cooked corn—innumerable cobs of it borne into the dining room on an enormous platter. As much on hand as anyone could eat.

Dessert? Sliced fresh peaches with thick "pour" cream and the thinnest, crispest sugar cookies. A good menu any year.

SALMON LOAF

1-3 cup butter or margarine, 1-3 cup minced onion, 3 eggs, 1 cup soft bread crumbs (crusts removed), ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, ¼ cup minced parsley, 1 can (1 pound) salmon.

In a small skillet over low heat, cook onion in butter until golden. In a medium mixing bowl beat butter, bread crumbs, salt, pepper, lemon juice and parsley. Drain salmon removing any skin, and mix in thoroughly. Turn into a buttered 1-quart mold; cover tightly; place in a large kettle of boiling water having water come halfway up sides of mold. Cover kettle and allow water to boil gently for 1 hour. Turn out; serve hot. Makes 6 servings.

Caper Sauce: Use the salmon liquid as part of the milk for a thin or medium white sauce; add lemon juice to taste and at least a tablespoon of drained capers for each cup of sauce.

Try Shrimp Rabbit For Friday Dish

SHRIMP RABBIT

Shrimp are one of the most favored members of the seafood family. Their individual and delicate flavor is richly enhanced by well seasoned cream sauces and the inimitable flavor of butter.

Shrimp Rabbit is a dairy-rich entree that will delight any hostess because of its ease in preparation as well as its nourishing goodness.

Serving suggestions for variation include toast points, fluffy rice or crisp fried noodles. To complete your company buffet menu, serve broiled peach halves, minted pineapple chunks

You Can Eat All This Dessert

Here's a cool, impressive-looking dessert to delight youngsters and oldsters alike. It is delicious and should be eaten in the hand just like an ice cream cone. Be sure it is thoroughly chilled before serving.

CHOC-NUT RICE CONES
(Makes 8 servings)

1 3¼-ounce package prepared chocolate pudding, 1 envelope unflavored gelatin, ¼ cup sugar, ½ cup milk, ½ cup peanut butter, 1½ cups cooked rice, 1 cup chopped nuts, ½ pint heavy cream, whipped, 8 wafer ice cream cups.

Combine chocolate pudding mix, gelatin and sugar in a saucepan. Stir in milk. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until pudding thickens. Blend in peanut butter and beat until smooth. Add rice and cool until mixture begins to set. Fold in the nuts and about 2-3 of the whipped cream (reserving about ½ cup for garnish). Spoon mixture into wafer ice cream cups. Return to refrigerator and chill. Garnish each cup with whipped cream and additional nuts or whole nut meat.

VEAL CUTLET
(Serves 6)

6 veal cutlets pounded very thin, 1 No. 2 can morels, 6 tablespoons sherry (or 3 tablespoons lemon juice), 2 cups heavy cream, Salt and pepper.

Season cutlets. Roll lightly in flour. Sauté gently in butter on both sides. Place in shallow dish to a light cream sauce, add 2 cups heavy cream, seasoning and sherry or lemon juice. Add morels, hot through, then pour over the veal. Simmer veal and morels for 2 minutes. Serve hot with rice or noodles.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

No need to get out the deep-fat fryer when you want to prepare fried onion rings. Soak the onion rings in milk, drain, dip in seasoned flour and fry in 1½ or 2 inches of hot fat.

Quarter an onion and an apple and tuck them, along with celery leaves, into the body cavity of a duck before roasting.

Ever cut creamy white mint patties fine and add them to chocolate pudding?

Tennis shoes and canvas sneakers will go into the washing machine, too. First scrub heavily soiled spots with a sudsy brush and tie the laces together. To speed drying, stuff toes with cloths or tissue paper.

Lincoln Machine Upsets Stepanic's In County Tourney

Old Dutch, Salem Democrats Victors

Lincoln Machine scored the upset of the Columbiana County Softball Tournament by blanking top-seeded Stepanic's Tavern 3-0 Wednesday at Kelley Field. The win advances Lincoln into the finals of the winners' bracket in the double elimination tourney.

Opposing Lincoln Machine in the finals will be Old Dutch, a 2-1 victory over Bricker & Bricker last night. In the third encounter of the evening East Liverpool Ferlaino Construction became the seventh aggregation to be knocked out of action as the Salem Democrats nipped East Liverpool 3-2 in an extra inning.

LINCOLN IS THE runner-up to Stepanic's in the Class AA League with a 12-7 record and now has rolled to three straight tourney wins. Stepanic's moves into the losers' bracket with a 17-6 overall mark.

Old Dutch will tangle with Lincoln Machine today at 9 p. m. for the winners' bracket championship. The victor then must meet the losers' bracket champion for the tournament crown. Old Dutch holds third place in the AA loop with an 11-8 record and has topped three in a row in tourney competition.

In the Lincoln-Stepanic's game, four scoreless frames were completed before the ice was broken. After two outs in the last of the fifth canto, Bob Shoff walked and scored on a triple by Gene Hammett. Lincoln tallied its second run when Bill DeFavero drove Hammett across the saucer with a single to left field to give Lincoln Machine a 2-0 margin.

The winners chalked up their final run in the sixth stanza on a single by Jack Jackson, a fielder's choice and an error. Hammett and Jackson paced the Lincoln attack with two hits each. Winning pitcher Shoff handcuffed the Stepanic's hitters as he allowed only two singles, one by Mercer. Jim Stonemetz was the loser.

BRICKER'S TOOK a 1-0 lead over Old Dutch in the top of the third canto on singles by Dave Hiner, Bob Morlan and Wayne Hahn but the winners came right back in the last of the frame to tie the count on Dick Youngpeter's homer.

Old Dutch copped the win in the last of the fourth when Lefty Miller rapped a fly to left and Morlan dropped the ball. Dick Wyss then singled Miller home with a single and Old Dutch locked up a 2-1 victory.

Hiner and Hahn socked two hits apiece for the losers, who out-hit Old Dutch, six to four.

Glen Mercer was the winning pitcher while Bill Ehrhart suffered the loss.

Ferlaino Construction took a 1-0 margin in the first inning but the Salem Democrats came back in the last of the sixth to move into the lead 2-1. The Democrats scored when George Carlisle reached first on an error and was brought home on Chuck Wilson's triple. Another miscue allowed Wilson to tally.

EAST LIVERPOOL knotted the count in the seventh but two walks, two errors and a single by Dave Williams pushed the deciding run across the plate for the Democrats in the last of the eighth canto.

Jerry Bryson was the winning hurler while Frank Paytors took the loss. Paytors limited the Democrats to just two hits.

Collegians Won't Get Pushed Around—Otto

All-Stars Set For Green Bay Packers

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor
CHICAGO (AP) — Taut and eager, the College All-Stars are ready for their football game against the Green Bay Packers Friday night at Soldier Field.

Says Coach Otto Graham of the collegians:
"Physically the Packers won't push us around. I just hope we won't make any mental errors."

The Packers, National Football League Champions, are a formidable club—"one of the best of all time," in Graham's view.

But the 1962 edition of the All-Stars, even with Ernie Davis of Syracuse sidelined, have much to recommend them.

They have John Hadl of Kansas, a talented quarterback; Ron Bull of Baylor, who is expected to step into the spot vacated by Davis; Roman Gabriel of North Carolina State, a pin point passer; Jimmy Saxton of Texas, an explosive runner, and Bob Ferguson of Ohio State, a powerful line smasher.

"And they're the hardest working squad I've seen in my five years of coaching in this game," says Graham.

The loss of Davis was a severe blow. He is in bed with a blood disorder that may keep him from playing at all this year with the Cleveland Browns.

The game is the 29th in the series sponsored by the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., and will be televised and broadcast (ABC) starting at 8:45 p.m. EST.

The Packers are clear cut favorites. However Graham, in his first job of coaching, pulled a big upset when his collegians beat the Detroit Lions 35-19. Graham figures his present team has the potential.

All indications point to an open game.

Graham won't name his starting quarterback yet, but he said "if we use the spread much it has to be Hadl."

Cubs Upend Giants In 10 Innings 3-2

Surging Cincy Takes Cards; LA Rips Bucs

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
Just how far is up for Cincinnati's rambunctious Reds?

That was the big question today in the National League, where the bounce-back Reds are using Frank Robinson's big bat as a battering ram in an attempt to gain admittance to the throne room for the second consecutive year.

Reds Cap 13 Of Last 14
The Reds have reeled off 13 victories in 14 games—the latest a 5-1 conquest of the St. Louis Cardinals Wednesday night.

The triumph moved the third-place Reds to within 7½ games of league-leading Los Angeles and within 2½ of second-place San Francisco. The Dodgers were belted by Pittsburgh 9-1 while the Giants bowed to the Chicago Cubs 3-2 in 10 innings.

Elsewhere in the NL, Milwaukee shut out Houston 3-0 behind Bob Shaw and Philadelphia outslugged the New York Mets 11-9.

The Cardinals got to Jim O'Toole (11-1) for their lone run in the fourth inning on Julian Javier's triple and a single by Stan Musial, but Robinson's homer following a Jerry Lynch single put the Reds ahead to stay. Larry Jackson (9-9) was the loser.

The Pirates backed Bob Friend (12-10) with a 14-hit attack and made the most of three Dodger errors to snap out of a losing skid in which they had lost eight of nine games. Six runs in the third tagged Stan Williams (9-7) with the loss.

Homer Settles Pitching
George Altman's two-run homer in the 10th inning settled a pitchers' duel between Bob Buhl (8-8) of the Cubs and Billy O'Dell (12-10) of the Giants. Buhl needed Don Cardwell's relief help in the bottom of the 10th.

Shaw (12-8) scattered eight hits in posting his third shutout of the year while the Braves collected only five hits, but used them more effectively to beat Hal Woodeshick (4-11). Milwaukee combined two hits and three walks for a pair of third inning runs and closed the scoring in the fifth on Joe Adcock's homer.

Tone Gonzalez paced the Phils' 18-hit offensive with four hits—including a triple and double—and three runs batted in. The victory went to Dennis Bennett (4-6) with Al Jackson (5-13) the loser.

Ernie Davis Out For 1962 Season

Ernie Davis Out For 1962 Season

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — All-America halfback Ernie Davis of Syracuse, the 1961 Heisman Trophy winner, is suffering from a blood disorder that is expected to keep him from playing pro football this season with the Cleveland Browns.

The 22-year-old, 212-pounder who erased the great Jim Brown's yard-gaining records for the Orangemen, has been in Evanston Hospital undergoing tests since Monday. He was to have played with the College All-Stars against the Green Bay Packers in Soldier Field Friday night.

Art Modell, Cleveland president, flew to Chicago Wednesday, and after conferring with doctors treating Davis, said in a statement:

"At this moment it appears almost certain that Ernie will not be able to play for the Browns this season. The doctors at Evanston Hospital are still completing tests but have diagnosed his condition as a blood disorder requiring extended treatment and rest. The long range future depends on his response to those treatments."

The disorder, Modell said, was not contagious or infectious and presented no danger to the All-Stars with whom Davis has been in training for three weeks.

Davis was the No. 1 choice of the Washington Redskins who got first pick this winter in the annual National Football League player draft. Washington traded him to Cleveland for veteran speedster Bobby Mitchell and the Browns' No. 1 draft selection, Leroy Jackson of Western Illinois, another blazing runner.

The trade gave Cleveland the tremendous one-two punch of Brown and Davis in the same backfield.

One no-hitter and two one-hitters were recorded in three of four Hot Stove League games played Wednesday.

CLASS G
Scott Koenreich hurled a no-hitter as he paced Hunt's Independent Union to a lopsided 19-2 victory over the Eagles.

Hunt's tallied once in the first, added another in the second, seven in the third and five each in the fourth and fifth innings.

PACING THE HUNT'S attack was Rick Royle with two homers and two singles. Kenny Kenst with a homer, a double and two singles also featured for the winners. Hunt's collected 16 hits.

Three walks in the third inning allowed the Eagles to tally.

The undefeated Fire Department scored five runs in the top of the seventh inning to overcome a 4-3 Petrucci margin and chalk up an 8-4 win. The winners are now 15-0 in loop play.

Both aggregations tallied three times in the first inning but Petrucci's took a 4-3 lead in the second on a walk and an error. Four walks in the first canto gave the losers their three tallies also.

The Firemen came to life as Bob Bentley and Bill Makras socked doubles and Lou Markovich and Denny Papp socked singles in the seventh frame to spark the rally and the victory.

Makras with two doubles and a single paced the Firemen. Scott Cody rapped the only hit off Bentley and Tom Bica, a single in the fifth stanza. Bica won the tilt, hurling the last six frames.

CLASS H
Bill Odorizzi blasted his second home run of the game in the top of the fifth inning to break a 1-1 deadlock and give Ailes Insurance a 2-1 victory over the Dairy Isle.

Odorizzi rapped a homer in the second inning to put the winners into a 1-0 lead. Dairy Isle tied the game in the fourth without getting a hit.

Odorizzi with his two clouts and Craig Anderson with a triple and single accounted for all of Ailes' hits.

John Stewart chalked up the Dairy Isle's only safety off Anderson, a single in the fifth canto.

STARK'S COLONIAL poured six tallies across the saucer in the first inning on two hits and never was headed in rolling past the Independent Hose nine 20-15.

The winners pushed the game out of the Hose crew's reach with a seven-run rally in the fourth. The Hose squad chalked up nine runs in the fourth also, but the Stark's lead was too much to overcome.

Joe Sabatino and Kent Smith collected two singles apiece to feature for Stark's.

Ernie Stevens with two doubles and Tom Galchick with a triple paced the Hose attack.

Root 62 Hosts Ruritans
Thirty-two Damascus Ruritans held a dinner-golf session at the Root 62 Golf Course Wednesday. Don Phillips won the low gross honors at the par-27 links with a 34. Other winners include, Jerry Steer, closest to the pin on No. 3 and Bob Moore, high gross tally with a 63.

Class G Meeting Set
Hot Stove Class G League managers or coaches will meet Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Lape Hotel to select the league all-star team.

Pancho Coaches U.S. In Davis Cup Action

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

MEXICO CITY (AP) — America's ace in the hole in the crucial Davis Cup tennis match against Mexico this weekend is the Mexican-descended team coach, pro champ Pancho Gonzales.

"If we pull this one out of the fire, enough credit can't be given to Pancho," says the U.S. captain, Bob Kelleher today.

"There are three specific areas in which Gonzales' value to us is inestimable. He is a great tactician. He commands respect from every man on the squad—they'd stand on their heads if he told them to do so. He gives them practice experience on the court such as you can't get anywhere in the world."

As a pro, Gonzales can't be on the sidelines but he'll be in the wings when the U.S. coppers square off against the Mexicans in the best-of-five match series Saturday, Sunday and Monday at the Chapultepec Sports Center.

Gonzales' coaching was credited with Alex Olmedo's and the United States' upset victory over heavily favored Australia in the Davis Cup challenge round at Brisbane in 1958. He was then a coach without portfolio, assisting Captain Perry Jones.

Gonzales has worked tirelessly whipping the American team into shape for the Mexican test. The Mexicans, with the gifted Rafael Osuna in the lineup, are favored to knock the Yanks out of the American Zone title for the first time in history.

The Americans are expected to use Chuck McKinley, St. Ann, Mo., and Jon Douglas, the former Stanford quarterback from Santa Monica, Calif., in singles, with McKinley and Dennis Ralston, Bakersfield, Calif., playing the doubles.

Bosox' Monbouquette Hurls No-Hitter, Trips Chisox 1-0

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Like most members of the pitching fraternity, Boston's Billy Monbouquette has his good days and bad. When he's good, he's very, very good, and when he's bad, he's horrid.

Only One Chisox Reaches Base
Wednesday night the hefty right-hander was very, very good. In fact, he was almost perfect. The 25-year-old native of Medford, Mass., hurled the season's fourth no-hit, no-run game, a 1-0 triumph over Chicago in which only one White Sox reached base.

"The finest game I have ever seen in the majors," Red Sox manager Mike Higgins said. Strangely, Monbouquette had been having his troubles of late.

A mainstay of the Boston staff for two seasons, he had been knocked out in his last four starts.

But he was the master of the situation Wednesday night. Only a second inning walk to Al Smith spoiled a perfect game. There were only two difficult chances, Charley Maxwell's long fly to right in the second and a blooper over second by Sherm Lollar in the fifth. Monbo retired the last 22 men in order.

Elsewhere in the American League, the first-place New York Yankees retained their six game margin over Los Angeles by taking a pair from Washington, 6-4 and 5-2 in 11 innings. Los Angeles also won two, beating Cleveland 2-1 and 8-4 in 10 innings. Detroit took two from Kansas City, 6-5 and 9-1. Minnesota outlasted Baltimore 3-1 in 11 innings.

"Sure, it was a thrill. Sure, it was the best game I ever pitched," said Monbouquette, who once struck out 17 men in a night game at Washington. "Nellie Fox was the man I was afraid of," he said. "He never strikes out."

Fox came in to hit for Early Wynn, the White Sox' ancient pitching star seeking his 298th career victory, with one out in the ninth. Monbo got him on a tricky grounder to third, then struck out Luis Aparicio to end the game, pushing his record to 9-10 for the season. He struck out seven.

Other no-hitters this season were by Earl Wilson, Monbouquette's teammate, Bo Belinsky of the Los Angeles Angels and Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Lu Clinton drove in the only run in the game with a single in the eighth, following two out singles by Jim Pagliaroni and Pete Runnels.

The Yankees pushed in three runs in the 11th inning of the nightcap at Washington to provide Whitey Ford with his 11th victory. Dale Long's double, a single by Elston Howard and John Blanchard's homer did the job.

Angels Tally Four In 10th
The five-hit pitching of Dean Chance (8-6) and a four-run 10th inning brought the Angels their two victories over Cleveland.

The 10th inning tie-breaker in the nightcap came on a disputed balk called on Cleveland's Ruben Gomez with runners on second and third. Singles by Tom Burgess, Billy Moran and Felix Torres got the others.

Detroit, which got the benefit of 20 bases on balls in its two games with Kansas City, had to rally for three runs after two were out in the ninth to win the opener.

Minnesota pitcher Jim Kaat (11-9) tripled to the right center wall, driving in the tie-breaking run in the 11th as the Twins beat Baltimore and Robin Roberts.

Buckeye Ramblers Capture 8-3 Win Over Chippewa
The Buckeye Ramblers scored an 8-3 victory over Chippewa, Pa., at Centennial Park Wednesday.

A four-run spurt in the third inning to go along with a three-run rally in the first canto gave the win to the locals.

Jerry Hendricks and Dick Beall rapped homers for the Ramblers while John Hanna chipped in with a triple. Hanna paced the attack with two hits.

Moe Meissner was the winning pitcher but needed help from Tom Furlong, who hurled two frames.

The Ramblers' schedule for this week is as follows:
Friday at Columbiana, 6 p.m.; Saturday at East Palestine, 6 p.m.; Sunday at Sebring, 1:30 and East Liverpool at Centennial Park Sunday at 4:30 p.m.

Palmer Overshot Greens
Palmer overshot the green at least three times—once clearing the gallery at the back edge by 40 feet with an approach shot. "Maybe the ball goes farther in this Ohio air than it does in that smoky Pennsylvania air, and he misjudges the distance," one high-heeled feminine galleryite observed.

On one occasion Palmer moved his ball only two feet on an attempted chip, he smothered another hook into a lake and he banged another second shot at the

Old Country Store

I just came from a very good friend of mine, Will Burgess from Leetonia. He lives right across from the High School. He is a sign painter and one of the best. Right now his business is slow and he could use some work. If you need any sign work, Will can do a fine job for you at the right price.

He painted my covered wagon, the Wagon Wheel and several other signs around the Country Store. Look them over the next time you are down.
